Contracts II, Professor Barondes
Winter 2018
Required Texts, etc., and Assignments for the First Few Classes
[Dated 12/29/17]

Required Texts:
Below are the required texts for the class:

- Farnsworth et al., Contracts: Cases and Materials (Foundation Press, 8th ed. 2013) (abbreviated “CB” below);
- Supplemental Reading (available for purchase at the bookstore). As noted below, you may well encounter difficulty if you postpone acquiring this.

Note: Other editions of required texts will not be suitable. It is possible some portion of the final exam in the class will allow a student to reference required texts. If so, a student will not be entitled to substitute a different edition. So, you should not acquire a different edition of a required text.

The supplemental reading will be made available in multiple, separately-bound parts. The first part of the supplemental reading, comprising approximately 194 pages, has been delivered to the bookstore. They should have it available before the first class. Note, however, that they may print and bind it only after they have your order. So, you should go to the bookstore and try to purchase it a few days before you will need it. A copy of the first 50 pages of the first supplement will be posted on the course web page on or about January 10 to assist students who encounter difficulties in obtaining the supplement in paper form on a timely basis.

Week 1:
- Read the class syllabus.
  - The syllabus will be posted on the course web site on or about January 12. So, there is not a need to contact me if you attempt to download it earlier and it is not available.
- CB: 405–406.7
- Supp.: 1–43.10
  - Note: The syllabus has more textual exposition (as opposed to cases) than the casebook. That type material may be covered in class at a pace different from the pace at which we cover edited cases. That is why the reading assignments covering the supplement may include more pages than reading assignments from the casebook.
You should be prepared to cover in the first class the above assignment through the appearance of Supp. page 36.3 (i.e., read the syllabus, CB: 405–406.7 & Supp.: 1–36.3), though it is unlikely we will get that far.

The above is somewhat aggressive for one week's worth of coverage, I should think. I note that last year, we ended Week 1 at page 36.3.

Tentative assignment for Week 2:

- Supp. 43.10–57.8.
- CB: 417.8–420.10.
- Supp. 57.8–59. You should be prepared to discuss the problems on these pages.
- CB: 433.8–439.10.
- Supp. 60–89.5.
