

Professor Richard C. Reuben
State Constitutional Law
Spring 2021

Re: First Day Class Assignment

Welcome back!

Our first class date is still to be determined, but please plan to read the first reading in the syllabus, Pages 931-949 of the Sutton et al casebook. These are historical materials about the earliest state charters and constitutions. As you read them, consider the elements the states included, and did not include, and what if anything you might have recommended.

See you next week!